NEW OIL FIELD LOOKS PROMISING EAST OF HAMLIN NINE MILES

Chittenden Ranch Wild Cat Producing

For more than a week now, excitement has been running high about the strike of oil on the Chittenden Ranch just south of Radium.

This well is known as the Mack Hays and Montour Production Company No. 1 Chittenden Estate. It was started last November by the J. H. Healey Drilling Co. and last Friday night was one week ago, they struck oil at 3024 feet. They shut down and later the well headed and the ground all about the well was blackened with spurting oil. From time to time since the discovery the well has headed and there is no doubt but that a sizable well and perhaps a real field has been opened.

This new field is in what is known as the Swastika sandy lime. It is the second well attempted in that immediate vicinity. In 1927 a well known as Mrs. D. Williams was drilled and some showing was made but the Montour well is 100 feet deeper than the 1927 well.

To reach the Chittenden Field from Hamlin follow the highway to the road just east of Radium and turn south about one mile and enter the ranch lane, to the hill top and then enter the ranch pasture and follow the trail for more than a mile further, and finally the derrick will show up and you pass on west of the old ranch headquarters place by winding around and about you come right up on the well. The oil smell and the drenched trees will convince you that a new oil pool has been found in Jones County, that really belongs to Radium but will be claimed by both Hamlin and Anson. It looks mighty good and should be big enough for all who claim it. This well is about as near Anson as it is Hamlin. And there is one thing sure—it comes nearer being hidden from eyes than any well in West Texas.

Despite the out-of-the-way position of the Chittenden well, it has been visited by many thousand automobiles since it blew in on or about San Jacinto day. If this well gauges even 100 barrels natural pumping, it will prompt much more drilling in the area east of Hamlin, and perhaps back to the city limits.

INTEREST IN STONEWALL

General Crude has been at a wild cat well on the J. D. Smith ranch, about 12 miles north of Rotan, in the Double Mountain section, and this well is reported as making an oil showing. This well is being drilled with a standard cable tool rig and is scheduled to go down 4,500 feet if oil is not struck sooner.

HERBST WELL STILL DRILLING

The Wise Chapel-Iron Mountain Herbst No. 1 well is going along slowly, perhaps in the oil bottom or a dry hole. This well has attracted much attention and is not many miles north of the Chittenden Ranch well.

HAMLIN HOSPITAL ADDING ROOMS

Drs. Gentry & Inzer are making some extensive improvements at the Hamlin Hospital and Clinic, the past few weeks.

These people have had charge of the hospital but a month or so and they find that it is good business to enlarge the capacity of the hospital, to provide for their patients and for office and clinic rooms.

Four more rooms have been added on the east side, in a way to give capacity for at least five or six more patients. The structure is a brick veneer, and all the new work is in harmony with the front of the building. Dr. Gentry and his wife are especially anxious that the atmosphere about the hospital be such that the environment will be good for their patients and attendants.

The hospital has an attractive sign these days.

A little more should be said about the new hospital doctors: Dr. Gentry has a wife who also is a doctor and before her marriage she was Miss Patti Faye Inzer and had been practicing medicine, therefore from a professional point of view, it is proper to speak of her as "Dr. Inzer," however it is not out of place to say Mrs. Gentry.

It is in keeping here to say the new nurses at the hospital are Mrs. Clayton R. N., formerly with the hospital till her marriage about two years ago, is day nurse and Miss Lacy, recently of the hospital at Silver City, New Mexico. Mrs. Jane Fulton, of Austin is student nurse attendant with rooms at the hospital.

OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST

F. W. Poe, Jr. age 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fleet Poe of Neinda is recovering nicely from a complete fracture of the bones of his left ankle—caused by jumping off a hay stack last Friday night. It is interesting to hear F. W. tell about his "playmates" at the time of his "jump."

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Kolb of Aspermont, a six pound girl, on Tuesday of last week.

Death claimed Ed Armstrong, age 57 years, on Wednesday of this week, after being in the hospital since April 24.

The hospital received two girls from a car accident near Aspermont on Saturday night of last week. Miss Artie Mae Baker received lacerations on the face and Miss Eupha Mae Hill was received Sunday with severe cuts on the face and arm injury. Both were dismissed Monday.

Charles Brown, age 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Brown had a tonsilectomy operation on Friday of last week and is back home and well again.

LATEST OIL NEWS

Those visiting the Chittenden well since Sunday report that indications are that it is going to be a 250 to 500 barrel producer. That means a new oil field. Monday the well flowed 60 barrels in 25 minutes and later it delivered into the tanks 77 barrels over a three-hour period. It seems that the flow and the gas is becoming stronger.

According to reports the Herbst well north of the Chittenden is 200 feet from the Swastika sand. That would indicate that all the wells drilled about the Wise Chapel were plugged too early.

R. V. Teague, who has been down in the Cross Plains country looking after stock interests, came up last week to visit his wife and sister, Mrs. A. G. Hudson, and old friends. Mr. and Mrs. Teague will likely move to their farm near Cross Plains this fall. The Herald is going down to Mr. Teague to keep him fresh on Hamlin.

METHODIST BUY THE BERRY RESIDENCE

Some time ago the Herald carried the information that the people of the Hamlin Methodist Church were going to construct a new home for the pastor. That was their plans, till a better offer was made to them by O. H. Berry, formerly of this city.

The Berry residence was built by George W. Gray and later purchased by Mr. Berry, who occupied it till he moved to Sweetwater, after which it was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Jones, who kept it till May first.

The Methodist people got a real bargain in this purchase and the place makes an ideal home for any pastor's family. At present they are doing a lot of refinishing and some re-modeling and soon the family will move in. It makes a good piece of property for the church, and the best thing is that it is paid for.

ATTEND HOME MAKING RALLY

Miss Faye Duncan, teacher of the Home Economics Department of the Hamlin High School, accompanied by Misses Ada Jane Howard, Faye Barton, Norma Stone and Juanita Harbert, students of the Home Economics Department, left Wednesday for San Antonio to attend the State Home Making Rally. They will return Sunday.

Hamlin Merchants Preparing For Summer Business With Cooling Systems

The Herald will record the facts that in 1937, Hamlin really started the idea of whipping the hot summer weather with air-cooled systems, on a small scale.

Now the record is extended to 1938 progress. This week Hamlin people felt the sweltering influence of the first summer heat of 1938. The temp. got up around 90 and made discomfort equal to the cold spell a few days ago when stoves were hustled out and fired up again to keep warm. Again the Herald will say it is just as reasonable to keep comfortable in hot weather as in cold. And that it is no more unreasonable to keep the doors closed against heat than closed against cold.

This first week of May, 1938 three houses acquired and installed air-conditioning equipment. First we noticed was that of Dr. Joe McCrary, who thinks of comfort for patients on a hot summer day while they are undergoing the drilling experience. To allay the pangs of the "pull" and the "drill" he has now for them a cooling system that makes 'em sleepy and happy while the pulling out or the filling in is going on. That is progress, Dr. Joe, with your 2,500 cubic ft. of cold air per minute.

The next place we located a new air-conditioning was at the Imperial Barber Shop. Now talk about keeping your "sort on," you'll need it down there. Grogan Turner has turned the trick on the other boys in the shop. He has installed a 3,500 cubic feet per minute "air changer," that brings the pure clean air in through the transom in front, booms it right back where Grogan works and keeps the whole shop delightfully pleasant. Just go in, drop over and take a nap while they "pull 'em out," wake up clean and cool, all for a quarter.

Kurt Schumann, manager for the Strauss Dry Goods Co., came to this country last year just in time to experience how hot a dry goods store can get in the afternoon. This year he is starting in time to make it cool on his customers and sales people.

Down there Tuesday, workmen were busy installing TWO fast and efficient air-cooling machines. One in the rear of the building with a capacity of 7,000 cubic feet of washed cool air per minute and then there will be one in the center of the building that will bring in an additional 3,500 cubic feet per minute, in such a way that every corner of the building should be cool and delightful, even on the hottest day.

The Herald is expecting to learn of many more new cooling systems installed in Hamlin, including business houses, hotels, churches, residences and offices, before the next frost appears.

BAPTIST CHOIR

WENT TO LUEDERS CAMP

Tuesday evening the choir of the Baptist Church was treated to a Spring Picnic Supper at Lueders Baptist Camp. The members and all their "in-laws" were invited and one of the chief attractions was the tables of good things to eat.

W. C. Russell and Mrs. Russell were host and hostess and planned the entertainment.

Everything went well till the dark rumbling clouds became too threatening. The group of about 12 autos left to run right into the wind, dust and rain and after being well scared they reached Hamlin in the calm after a boisterous windy day.

PROMINENT NEW YORK

TEACHER WILL BE JUDGE IN PIANO PLAYING CONTEST

Miss Hazel Griggs, prominent pianist and teacher of New York City, will serve as judge in the Abilene unit of the National Piano Playing Tournament, it was announced yesterday by E. Edwin Young, general chairman.

Miss Griggs, a musician of long study and wide experience combined with a sympathetic attitude toward the young pianists who are striving for pianistic skill, will grade the work of all entrants and determine their ratings for places upon the District, State or National Honor Rolls of piano students of the U. S. A. for 1938. Screened from the players, Miss Griggs will judge upon a purely impersonal basis, and grading will in all events be made upon what the average pupil should do, age and length of time studied being considered, and not what is expected of prodigies of unusual gifts, it was said.

Miss Griggs acted as student assistant teacher during her conservatory study and has spent more than half her lifetime teaching piano. In Houston, Texas, she directed three studios with three assistants. In New York she has been associated with the David Mannes School, Montessori School, Cortot School of Piano Playing, and has served as director of music in Miss Hewitt's Classes. She maintains a studio in Steinway Hall, New York City. Miss Griggs' pupils hold responsible positions in schools in Illinois, Texas and New York.

Following a successful New York debut concert, Miss Griggs has played extensively in the East and South, and also on the west coast. In addition to concerts of the usual type, Miss Griggs has introduced a new type of concert—"Concerts for Children"—designed for audiences of children and serving the teacher also as a review of teaching material. Miss Griggs was engaged for eight of her "Concerts for Children" as a special attraction of the Texas Centennial Exposition in 1936. The first recordings of piano literature for children were played by Hazel Griggs and released by Gamut in 1937.

Mrs. A. E. Pardue who was called to Austin because of the serious illness of her granddaughter, little Miss Suzanne Toler, returned home Saturday and reports Suzanne recovering nicely. Mrs. Pardue was accompanied to Austin by Mrs. Turner Bynum.

Miss Freda May Holmes, of Fort Worth, came Sunday to visit her aunt, Mrs. Joe McCrary.

GOVERNOR'S RACE

By now the woods are full of fellows wanting to be governor of Texas. Guess there are about 12 fellows who want to "save their state." Some of them are trying to get up in the big two class by means of riding the little country papers. Some of them are violating city ordinances, for example in Hamlin, by having their placards tacked on telephone, telegraph and light poles here in Hamlin. Did you know there is an ordinance against littering up the city by tacking or pasting cards and circulars on poles in Hamlin? Well, Bud, there is. And besides who is going to pull 'em down after "you" are elected or defeated? But somebody will ask "Well, aren't you for somebody for governor?" Sure we are, and you are. But Boy, both of us could be mistaken in our man. We just think this one or that one is the MAN, and later on we find that he will not fit into our ideas of what should or should not be done. There is but one great unsolved problem in Texas, and that is TAXATION. Certainly it takes money to operate all the things the people have voted to be done in Texas, and some kind of tax must pay the bill. It seems OK with every taxpayer for the other fellow to pay a tax but it is always the "other fellow." Even candidates for governor are afraid of saying what kind and how much tax on this or that. Just one thing certain, Texas' whole taxing system is a worn-out make-shift, affair that is fair to no one and as uncertain as to the amount as the rain. Taxes would not be hard to bear if everybody had a share in the paying. Many paying a little means a great deal. A few paying 90 per cent of all the property tax, is a burden. Take that for what it is worth. Mr. Governor candidate what have you to offer that you are not afraid of?

YARD IMPROVEMENT WORK MAKES HEADWAY

COLLEGE STATION—The 9,955 home demonstration club members and 4-H club girls who carried on yard improvement work in 1937 under the supervision of county home demonstration agents achieved excellent results with a total cash expenditure of only $10,122, or an average of slightly more than $10 a yard, according to Miss Sadie Hatfield, landscape gardening specialist of the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College.

There were 1,709 lawns leveled and sodded and 2,487 drives and walks constructed. The big improvement came in the addition of plants with 25,372 nursery shrubs, 19,765 native shrubs, and 18,006 trees for shade and background planted and living. In addition, 23,369 rose bushes were planted and are living.

Cutting beds produced 88,610 plants and shrubs which will make a showing in future years. This economical way of securing material for beautifying home surroundings is growing in popularity. There were 36,233 cuttings rooted in 1936.

The work listed above does not include work done in 1937 on demonstrations of the past. The volume of accomplishments of these yards is indicated by 14,194 trees and 12,376 shrubs planted and living.

Miss Hatfield lists among the 1937 trends a movement to include the Agricultural Conservation program in yard improvement plans. One result of this trend has been to replace row crops around farm homes with permanent pastures or alfalfa fields.

Points and Personalities

by doris pope

No, sir, you can't tell about West Texas weather. With the weather doing a "right, about, face" every two days we don't know whether to wear our "winters" or our "springies." Any how one of our prominent ready-to-wear department managers got tired fooling around and pulled a fast one on the weather when she came down to work one morning this week, dressed in a voile dress, heavy shoes, and a red fox scarf.

We understand that the Lions Club had a most unusual roll call and program this week with their president, Gordon (Papa) Bennett, as honored guest.

The report is that at the recent West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention one of Hamlin's most prominent bankers and chamber of Commerce workers spent a half day locked in his hotel room.

A well known service station operator of our town is having to report for jury service in Anson this week, and in order to make the most of his trips, he has been getting up at five o'clock and fishing until court opens. So far, his luck has been pretty good.

People are wondering about the small white package that a certain department store manager has been carrying around in his pocket recently.

We were told that a well known fire insurance man (who has been avoiding publicity) will be unable to attend the Lions convention this year because of "home situations."

And have you seen the brand new cowboy boots that Hamlin's attorney and insurance man got just to wear to the Lions convention in Lubbock? They're snazy—brown kangaroo with red, white and green stitching. If he just owned half a calf, he'd almost be a cowboy. (We wonder how the drug store cowboys of our fair city feel about this competition.)

A well known lumber man was forced to "stand up" and eat this week. Now, we could explain about little Johnny eating off the mantel, but this

A certain steno in an insurance office of our little city, who attributes her cheerful disposition to a daily bicarbonate of soda, has made a very generous offer of a fifty per cent cut to anyone aiding her in securing an old age pension.

MOVING TO GORMAN

This Friday, Hamlin is losing one of her most highly esteemed couples, —Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Day. These people have lived in Hamlin most of the time for 15 years and have won a place in the hearts of all who know them. They have particularly been active in church work, and on Wednesday evening a tribute of love was paid them by many individuals with whom they have worked in Sunday School and church circles. A surprise farwell party was given them in the church reception rooms, just after the prayer meeting service Wednesday evening. Ladies had prepared a course of ice cream and cake and dozens and scores of presents were hauled into the room by two little girls, with a placard on the front of the little wagon, reading, "Headed for Gorman."

Mr. and Mrs. Hood of Fort Worth, were here the past week end with Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Hines and other old friends of the Flat Top community and about Hamlin. They are pioneers of Jones County.

WIND DAMAGES MANY OUTBUILDINGS

High winds raged Monday, till late Tuesday night, culminating in a stiff hurricane proportion about dark on Tuesday, with about one half inch of rain.

Considerable damage was done to barns and other out buildings, in various parts of the country.

East of Hamlin, J. M. Stubbs reported that his chicken house with about 130 young chickens was demolished and 70 of his chicks killed. Other outbuildings in his neighborhood were scattered over the fields.

West of Hamlin in the Swedonia community, Tarlton Willingham reported that his poultry house was destroyed and a few hens killed. Besides this he had many other buildings torn and shaken. Not far east of Willingham on the Mrs. Bledsoe farm, Jack Robbins two-room house was destroyed, but no one hurt. Weldon Griggs garage was demolished, but fortunately his car was not in it.

North of town, the Benham Dairy barns were damaged considerably and some of his cows injured. About in many other places perhaps there was still greater damage.

The continued high winds terminated in cooler weather.

Curiosa Americana

By Elmo Scott Watson

Play On and With Words

ONCE upon a time a preacher from Hartford, Conn., was called upon to give the opening prayer at a session of the state house of representatives and immediately afterwards listened to the debate over a divorce case. (In those days the Connecticut legislature had the power to grant divorces and was noted for its readiness to do so.) Struck by the irony of the fact that he, who performed marriages, should be witnessing this "unmarrying process," the preacher composed these lines:

For cut-ting all connect-ions famed,
Connect-I-out is fairly named;
I twain connect in one, but you
Cut those whom I connect in two.
Each legislator seems to say,
What you Connect I cut away.

When two men named Willing and Schott fought a duel in Philadelphia, the "City of Brotherly Love," some wag composed the following:

Schott and Willing did engage
In duel fierce and hot;
Schott shot Willing willingly,
And Willing he shot Schott.
The shot Schott shot made Willing quite
A spectacle to see;
While Willing's willing shot went right
Through Schott's anatomy.

Curiosa Americana

We Mourn Lord Nelson

THE next time you see on the street a sailor from the United States navy, on shore leave, take a second look at his costume. Those three white bands on the collar of his blue-jacket uniform are not just for decorative purposes. They were originally adopted by the British navy to commemorate the three decisive victories of that great naval hero, Lord Nelson—at Trafalgar, Copenhagen and Aboukir. Having gained our heritage of the sea from England, we have inherited and adopted some of her traditions. Hence the honor to Lord Nelson.

Our American sailors also join with their British cousins in perpetual mourning for Nelson. For that black neckerchief is a badge of mourning for him. And for the same reason officers adopted the black necktie as a part of both the service and the evening dress uniform.

Source of The Columbia River

THE COLUMBIA, largest of the rivers on the Pacific Coast of the United States, finds its actual source in the great icefield covering the crest of this peak in Jasper National Park, Alberta. The mountain, known as Snow Dome, lies within a few hundred yards of the new motor road between Jasper Park Lodge and the Columbia Icefield, biggest glacial area south of the Arctic Circle in North America. Snow Dome, one of the many huge peaks in the Columbia Icefield Region, is the hydrographic apex of the Canadian Rockies and in addition to being the source of the Columbia River it is also the source of the Athabasca whose waters flow to the Arctic Ocean and of the Saskatchewan which reaches the Atlantic Ocean. A corner of the new motor highway is seen in the right foreground.

SELLING EARLY CHICKENS AT PROFIT

A small house that has proved most satisfactory, has been used by Rose Evelyn Propst, poultry demonstrator, of the Plainview 4-H Club. The house is about 3 feet square, and is built up about 1½ feet from the ground. A window with a pane in it was placed at a slant in the top. Under the little house was placed an incubator lamp, and this gave the proper heat to keep the chickens warm. A runway about 6 feet long, covered with wire connects with the brooder house.

Rose Evelyn has 65 chickens one month old and none have died. She has waterers and feeders and has been feeding her chickens a starter mash.

Selling 5 early chickens at 35 cents apiece, helped Nadine Bingham, poultry demonstrator of the Neinda 4-H Club to buy some more baby chicks. Nadine has a brooder house, and now has 75 chickens. She has feeders and waterers, and sees that the water for her chickens is clean. She feeds her chickens an abundance of milk together with the ground grain.

WASHINGTON NEWS

FROM CONGRESSMAN
CLYDE L. GARRETT

CIVIL AERONAUTICS AUTHORITY—The Senate Finance Committee has favorably reported a bill establishing a Civil Aeronautics Authority, to control licenses, rates, and other matters and a special air safety board, to be appointed by the President.

BILL WOULD PROMOTE HEALTH—Passage of a bill introduced by Chairman Doughton of the House Ways and Means Committee, would increase funds available for promoting the health of mothers and children under the Social Security act. The bill would amend the act to provide $3,000,000 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1939; $8,000,000 for the following year; $12,000,000 in 1941; $16,000,000 in 1942; and $20,000,000 in 1943.

SOCIAL SECURITY—Registered under the Social Security act at the Social Security Board are more than 38 million men and women. At the end of March applications for account numbers exceeded that mark. With five million applications, New York led the list; Alaska had 16,491.

PUBLIC HIGHWAY BUILDING—The Federal Bureau of Public Roads is assembling surveys of mileage and usage, which, when finished, will provide the first complete set of maps and records for an estimated three million miles of rural roads. This will be done in order to do away with the guesswork in building public highways. Preliminary statistics have already been tabulated and analyzed in 44 states.

ROAD IMPROVEMENT—Congress has authorized $200,000,000 for road improvement and grade-crossing elimination for the next fiscal year. Approval of primary construction programs have already been granted to 25 states and 17 others for secondary roads, both to be matched by States.

EDUCATION—Another bill for the purpose of authorizing a vast program of Federal subsidies to states to help public education has again come out of the Senate Committee on Education and Labor. The sponsor of the bill is Chairman Thomas of Utah. States would receive, according to the bill, for elementary and high school, annual appropriations starting with $40,000,000 through June 30, 1945, for health and recreation, for library, for handicapped pupils, for vocational education, etc.

NEW STAMP—Postmaster Farley announced that the new 1½-cent Martha Washington postage stamp, which is to be placed on sale for the first time at the Washington, D. C. post office on May 5, 1938, will be brown in color while in size it will conform to the one-cent George Washington stamp recently announced, 0.75 by 0.87 inches, arranged vertically. Stamp collectors desiring first-day cancellations of the new stamp from Washington on May 5, may send a limited number addressed covers, not in excess of 10, to the postmaster at Washington, D. C. with a cash or postal money order remittance to cover only the cost of the stamps required for affixing. Each cover should have a pencil endorsement in the upper right hand corner to show the number of stamps to be affixed, which will obviate the necessity of sending a letter of instructions with the covers. To receive the official first-day postmark, covers must bear postage at the first-class rate.

NEW $35,000,000 PROJECT—Income and business opportunities in rental housing projects are currently attracting a growing interest on the part of investors, as well as professional groups and financial institutions. Recent announcement by an insurance company of its plans for constructing a $35,000,000 rental project in New York to house between 12,000 and 20,000 families is expected to add impetus to other developments in the rental housing field throughout the country. This project, the largest integrated urban development thus far undertaken, demonstrates the extent to which acceptance of rental housing as a field for sound investment has grown.

FARM WAGES HIGHER—Farmers are paying slightly higher wages to hired hands this spring than last. As a national figure, farm wages per month with board, on April 1 averaged $23.86 compared with $23.38 on April 1 a year ago, and with $20.41 as a 1910-14 average.

Uncommon Americans

By Elmo Scott Watson

"Liberator of Bulgaria"

HIS name was Janarius Aloysius MacGahan and that fact alone should be enough to make him an "uncommon American." But he had other and better claims to distinction.

Born in 1844 in the little town of New Lexington, Ohio, young MacGahan grew up into a mild-mannered, timid youth, which was strangely in contrast to his character later. At the age of seventeen he tried to become a country school teacher but his application was rejected on the grounds that he was too young and inexperienced.

Deeply wounded by this rebuff, MacGahan left his native state and never returned to it. He went to Huntington, Ind., where he was given a school and taught it successfully for two years, then to St. Louis, where he studied for four years and wrote for the newspapers, all the time preparing himself for a career as a lawyer.

Next he decided to finish his studies in languages in Europe before starting his law career. But just as he was preparing to return to America, the Franco-Prussian war broke out and the New York Herald engaged him to accompany the French army as a war correspondent.

If he had been shy as a boy, he seems to have gotten over that. His new job took him into the thickest of the fight and there he wrote his dispatches while the bullets whistled around him. His graphic reports from the French front won him a position with the London News as well as the Herald.

In 1876 he went into the Balkans and his exposures of the Turkish atrocities in Bulgaria not only stirred England to the depths but led to action by the European powers which won for MacGahan the title of "Liberator of Bulgaria." His untimely death, caused by a fever which he took from a friend whom he refused to leave in Constantinople, brought to a close a brilliant newspaper career. He was buried first in the Turkish capital. Six years later his body was brought back to his native town of New Lexington, where thousands united in honoring the "home town boy" who had made good in other fields. Today his is one of the names honored in the Hall of Fame in the school of journalism at Ohio State University.

Right Beauty; Wrong College

Chosen as "the only beautiful girl" at the University of Chicago, Miss Joy Hawley, graduate and former beauty of Texas State College for Women, turned out to be enrolled in Northwestern University, where she has already been named a 1938 beauty.

The mix-up began when a Chicago U. magazine stated, "There hasn't been a really beautiful woman around here since Little Egypt reared her skirts on the World's Fair midway in 1893." To debunk the article, Chicago U. boys went down to the photographer and with the help of three "beauties" selected what they thought was the picture of a Chicago co-ed.

Great was the chagrin of the U. student body when their triumphant choice turned out to be a Northwestern girl. Miss Hawley is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Hawley of Denton, Texas.
